

Spanish II study guide for final exam

There are 3 parts to the exam

Part I --Oral Portion	25 points
Part II—Proficiency Sheet	50 points
Part III—Multiple choice written	50 points

Part I—Oral portion

- Will begin the week before the exam and finish the last day before exam.
- All make-ups must be before school if you miss your scheduled day.
- You will have to start by spinning the question wheel and ask me a question or questions.
- I must be able to follow your topic and vocabulary.
- If I do not know (or pretend not to know) a vocab word you use, you must explain it in Spanish.
- Goal of this section is to communicate.
- Speed isn't an issue, but should work towards 5 minutes for full credit. Must NOT be all be in the present tense
- No one else will be listening, so you won't speak in front of the class.
- You may not use any notes, and you should be able to use some newer vocabulary (of your choice).

Part II—Proficiency

- A completed proficiency sheet at 80% will count as 50 points for exam
- This is due the Friday before exams for full credit, may submit later for partial. Extra credit option ONLY available if in on time
- This will also count as 100 points toward marking period grade.

Part II—Multiple choice

- Preterite
- Imperfect
- Translation into Spanish or from Spanish into English
- Future tense
- Units 4 and 6 (can get online)
- Learnables (2-3 units from this tri—may include earlier vocab)
- Other vocabulary and verbs may also be used from first semester
- You may use your notes/books for only a limited time during this portion.
